The Name and Family of SHEARER

The name of Shearer, Sherer or Scherer is believed to be of extremely ancient Anglo-Saxon or German origin. It has been found spelled variously in many different ways, but the most generally accepted in America is SHEARER. The name originated in all probability as the name of an occupation of one who sheared cloth, or one who was a "shearer, or cloth Shearman." We have the Bible record in the book of Isaiah of the "Shearer."

Families of this common name are found in many parts of England, Switzerland and Germany, but the one in which we are particularly interested is in all likelihood of Anglo-Saxon ancestry. The earliest records extant show families of this name as far back as the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries.

The earliest bearer of the name probably arrived in America in the early part of the eighteenth century. From that time on the different branches of the family scattered to the different states of the Union. Some of the early emigrants settled in Pennsylvania from whom in all probability we are descendants. They have been noted for their energy, industry and resourcefulness, and are a race of no mean character. Many of the name fought in the Revolutionary Army and other wars of the Republic. While many others were distinguished in various other ways.

A Coat-of-Arms is one of the proud possessions of the family name. Latin motto:—HOSTIS HONORI INVIDIA, English translation:—"Envy is an enemy to honor." Trust that no one of the tribe dishonors the name of Shearer that has been carried on so proudly and honorably for so many generations past.

The Name and Family of MYERS

Like all names of families handed down from former times, the name of Myers has been spelled in many different ways, often being spelled at different times by the same person in several ways. As far as I have been able to find in tracing the different names, hardly any one can trace the first arrival in this country in a direct manner to the present generation.

The name of Myers, Myer, Meyer and other spellings has been traced as of German descent and was derived from the word MEIER, meaning "a steward, bailiff, tenant of a farm, or farmer." Many members of the family name came from different countries in Europe, particularly Germany, Switzerland and Holland. Many of the clan settled in Pennsylvania and adjoining states, and we are in all probability descendants of the ones who came to Pennsylvania in the early years of the eighteenth century. As my memory serves me, most of them were farmers.

They have scattered to all parts of the United States and have helped in building up the country in many ways. Mostly tillers of the soil, but a goodly number of the name have distinguished themselves in various other ways. One of their chief characteristics was a stubborn pride with a very high sense of justice.

Like most ancient families a Coat-of-Arms is accredited to the name. The one for the Myers name is as follows: Latin motto: NON DORMIAT QUI CUSTODIT, English translation: "Let not him who guards, sleep." A hard-headed ancestry of which we can all feel a just pride in being their descendants.

The original Shearer came to this country on the ship "The Thistle of Glasgow." and according to Mrs. Mary I, Loveland, of 1021 Park Avenue, New York City (my cousin) the line down is authentic. The ship arrived at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, August 29, 1730.

Reuben Shearer, son of Samuel, or Simon, Shearer was born on a farm to the right-hand side of the road between Pleasant Hall and Strasburg, Franklin County, Pennsylvania about half-way between the two places. His mother's name was Anna Maria Myers, daughter of Harmon and Odilla Myers. The farm was transferred to his father's son, Henry and a deed given in 1809. The farm consisted of about 250 acres. Afterwards it was sold to a ----- Creamer, who sold it to Abraham Rohrer, then to his son, Jacob Rohrer, and is now, May 1938, occupied by a man by the name of Burkholder. Honeybun and I took a picture of the old homestead on April 19, 1938 and also had a drink of water from the old well which supplied water for our ancestors. Also took a snapshot of the old Church near Pleasant Hall, which was at one time called "Shearer's Church" but at the present time is named Salem Lutheran Church. Quite a number of our relatives are buried in the adjoining cemetery.

Rebecca Wise was born on a farm about one mile from Orrstown, Pennsylvania which was afterwards known as the Wise farm, subsequently owned by Simon P. Shields, a brother-in-law, and later by his son David H. Shields.

Reuben Shearer and Rebecca Wise spent the early part of their married lives at Strasburg, Pennsylvania. Then at about the middle part of the Civil War they lived on a farm near Orrstown, Pennsylvania. The farm adjoined the farm of his brother Henry. In the Spring of 1863 the family moved to Shippensburg, Pennsylvania where the remainder of their lives was spent. There he engaged in the merchant tailoring business. He was married twice and lived very happily with each wife. He was a good father to me, his latest born son, Raymond.

Lives with her parents. (Teacher)

This family record has been compiled by her father for "Honeybun" as a loving memory of her parents for a wonderful daughter. She has been a blessing to both of us in every respect, and the three of us have had a very beautiful life with each other.

"Honeybun" is a pet name we gave her when a baby. First we called her "Honey," then "Bunny," and afterwards combined the two words, shortening them to "Honeybun." Most of her intimate friends know her by this nickname and it will probably stick to her as long as she lives.

She is a graduate of Hunter College, New York City, and has a Master's Degree from Columbia University. Teaches mathematics in a city high school. She is a very excellent pianist, having been taught solely by her father, the two of us spending many happy hours together playing four-hand arrangements of all the great classical symphonies, overtures, etc. of Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, etc.

She has driven the three of us all over the United States in an automobile, covering in one trip of ten weeks more than fifteen thousand miles. It was during this travel in 1937 that we met so many different relatives in all parts of the country that I decided to write this family-tree to enlighten all of you as to where we have scattered during the years past.

The Name and Family of WISE

The name of Wise, Wyse, Wisse, Wyse, or German spelling as Weiss, Weis, etc. is of great antiquity, the familiar name being known widely as far back as the tenth century. The name originally was used as a nickname, but later was adopted as a surname. Wise is also a Bible name, as well as the one for Shearer, the account being as of the three "wise men."

In England the name goes back, as recorded in the eleventh century, to the time of William, The Conqueror. But the branch we descend from arrived in this country at about the year 1740. My first information as to our first parents in the New World was that they were named Adam and Eve. But on later knowledge I believe that Eve was the mother of Adam, and that he in turn was the father of Jacob Wise, Sr., who was born December 19, 1782. This will probably account for the seeming error in my record of one generation. Possibly Jacob Wise, Sr.'s grandfather might also have been named Adam.

Our branch of the family came from Holland and were fair in complexion, which still obtains in the descendants to the present day. Most of them were of medium height and of a jolly disposition. Many of the name came to this country in its early days and it is quite difficult to trace the direct line of descent. Many of them served in the different wars of Colonial and Revolutionary times, as well as earning honorable names in other lines of endeavor.

A Coat-of-Arms is also one of the possessions of this family name. Latin motto:—SAPERE AUDE, English translation:—"Dare to be Wise."

The Name and Family of BEETEM

---

The name of Beetem, spelled variously, as all old names were, is of undeniable English origin. The remotest bearer of the name that I have been able to trace dates back to the reign of King Henry, the II, of England, who reigned from 1154 to 1189, when Ralph de Betham was Knighted and served in parliament as also did many of his descendants. The direct line of descent continued until the reign of King Richard, the III, (1485) when the Betham of that generation died without issue of a son. An only daughter, Anne, of Roger de Betham, married Sir Robert Middleton, of Leighton, and from then down the Beetem line of descent is not through first sons.

During these generations a large castle was built, but at the present writing it is in ruins.

The name, itself, has been traced as deriving from the Betha River which flows through that part of England. But unquestionably the name dates back many generations before the twelfth century.

George Beetem, the first of the name to arrive in America, came at about the middle part of the eighteenth century. His son, Samuel, who married Mary Marquart, is our direct ancestor, and the line down from that time is complete in this record. Samuel Beetem was a quite-well-to-do citizen and was appointed in 1813 by Governor Snyder, of Pennsylvania a Justice of the Peace, and afterwards was generally known as "Squire."

A Coat-of-Arms also belongs to this family name. Latin motto:—PER ARDUA SERGUM, English translation: "By effort I rise through difficulties."

The original Marquart family came to America in 1743 and settled in Berks County, Pennsylvania. Near Reading. His daughter, Mary, married Samuel Beetem, who became our first grandparents in this country. The family was of French Huguenot lineage.

I will have to call this "The lost tribe of the Wise family." I have endeavored in every way that I could possibly think of to locate one of the descendants of this branch of the Wise family without success. A number of years after the death of the mother, the father, and his only son Harry who had married an only daughter of another family, moved to the west. My best information was they had moved to either Sheldon or Bunker Hill, Illinois.

I wrote to the postmasters in both places who answered me very kindly, the one at Sheldon placing an article in the local newspaper which he stated in his letter to me was read by many of the "oldtimers" of that community, asking that any reader who might have information as to this lost family communicate with me. But no reply has been received by me and I am sorry that I cannot include this one missing branch of the Wise descent in this family-tree.

11. The first part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $f(x)$  defined by the equation  $f(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} a_n x^n$ , where  $a_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $f(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $f'(0) = a_1$ .

12. In the second part of the paper, we consider the function  $g(x)$  defined by the equation  $g(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} b_n x^n$ , where  $b_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $g(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $g'(0) = b_1$ .

13. The third part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $h(x)$  defined by the equation  $h(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} c_n x^n$ , where  $c_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $h(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $h'(0) = c_1$ .

14. In the fourth part of the paper, we consider the function  $k(x)$  defined by the equation  $k(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} d_n x^n$ , where  $d_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $k(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $k'(0) = d_1$ .

15. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $l(x)$  defined by the equation  $l(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} e_n x^n$ , where  $e_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $l(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $l'(0) = e_1$ .

16. The sixth part of the paper is devoted to the study of the properties of the function  $m(x)$  defined by the equation  $m(x) = \sum_{n=0}^{\infty} f_n x^n$ , where  $f_n$  are the coefficients of the power series. It is shown that  $m(x)$  is a continuous function on the interval  $[0, 1]$  and that it is differentiable at  $x=0$  with derivative  $m'(0) = f_1$ .

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This family record has been issued on the anniversary of the birthday of Honeybun.

The record of the family name of Shearer has been obtained from data furnished by the Media Research Bureau of 1110 F Street, Washington, D. C. and the Historical Research Bureau of 6829 Fourth Street, N. W. of the same city. Similarly, the record of the family names of Myers and Wise have been obtained from the Media Research Bureau.

The record of the family name of Beetem has been given me by Mr. Gilbert Beetem of Carlisle, Pennsylvania. He has gone into the investigation of the name very thoroughly, obtaining the greater part of his information as to the older part of its history from "Nicholson & Burn's Historical Record of Cumberland and Westmorland Counties, England." This book by Joseph Nicholson and Richard Burn was published and printed in 1777 by W. Strahan & T. Cadell, Strand, London. Very few copies of this book are available in America, but, in addition to the one owned by Mr. Beetem, copies may be seen at the Ridgway Library, South Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and the Congressional Library at Washington, D. C.

All blood relations are eligible to join the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Shearer branch through the service of Henry Shearer in the Revolutionary War, definite information of which is in the first part of this book, and through having had George Beetem and Martin Marquart sign the Oath of Allegiance, being themselves too old to participate actively in the War.

The Beetem and Wise relationships entitle their direct descendants to eligibility under the Beetem and Marquart "Oaths of Allegiance."

Certified copies of the signing of the Oath of Allegiance by George Beetem, November 18, 1777, and Martin Marquart, June 16, 1778 may be obtained by writing to The Historical Society of Berks County, Pennsylvania, 910 Centre Avenue, Reading, Pennsylvania.

I have a signed letter by Isabelle C. Mason, Registrar General of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, from Memorial Hall, Washington, D. C. as to the above status of eligibility.

An ancestral "Coat-of-Arms," beautifully hand-painted, may be obtained from the Media Research Bureau for the Shearer, Myers or Wise branches of the family.

In checking up the Wise ancestry I find there is probably one generation skipped. In consequence I have lettered the first one to arrive in this country B instead of A as it possibly should be. Most of the information as to the Wise branch of the family has been given me by Cousin Joseph B. Shields, of Lost Springs, Kansas.

Almost without exception the entire relationship has responded in a kind and friendly way in supplying the data for this family-tree. It has been my privilege to know in my lifetime well on to three hundred and fifty members of the different families personally. I doubt if any one of the relatives has known more or as many. I have had many delightful contacts in person and by writing and hope the result of my effort will be of interest and pleasure to each one of you.

I have intentionally used different forms of the verb "live" when noting different places of residence. The form used always relates to the blood-relative in each case in the different families.

After each "D" generation a double line is inserted. From then on each family is complete to the present time. You should have no difficulty in continuing your own individual family-tree for many generations and I trust that many of you will do so.

From the many different sources and persons from whom I have had information, and in writing and rewriting each date many, many times, errors in typing may have been overlooked as to dates, months or years, but my endeavor has been to make the family-tree as authentic and reliable as possible.

BIRTHDAY RECORD

I would be pleased to have an expression of your opinion of my effort in hunting up this family relationship if any one of you feel disposed to drop me a few lines.

Though most of us have not had the privilege of meeting a very great number of each other in the relationship, God willing, trust we may get to know each other better in the world to come.

Faithfully yours,

Charles Raymond Shearer.

Additional blank pages have been added in the back of this index in order that each one receiving the book may make further entries as to the births, marriages, deaths and places of burial of your several families. I have added these pages for a record to be kept for each individual family, and also, that if the book is ever revised at some future time it may not be such a difficult task. I trust each one of you may do this for your own benefit as well as to help at some later date in the revision of these family records.
